Multi-Level Secure VoIP

Quintron's new Multi-Level Secure (MLS) VoIP system allows users to process voice communications at different security levels from a single client workstation in an integrated and seamless manner. And, whatever the security level, you can be assured that the voice communications are correctly prioritized and protected from unauthorized access.

No matter how you slice it, it's yet another technological breakthrough from the company that's been leading the industry for more than 40 years.
