

MORE THAN JUST A PRETTY FACE.

Having the most attractive and user-friendly GUI is not the only reason DICES is the best desktop user station in the market.

DICES Desktop User Station

Let's face facts. The user interface is where the rubber meets the road but it is only one critical facet of your overall operational solution. DICES delivers an intuitive user access GUI as a standard part of our product, but this can be easily customized to suit your particular mission critical needs.

In addition, DICES offers the most capable and feature-rich system equipment as well, in both TDM (DICES IV) and server-based (DICES VoIP) options. Either provides the muscle behind the pretty face you need for a complete interoperable command center voice solution.
